4,0	Source made the following observations at the fuel dump: 16 May. A two-axle tank car was detached from a freight train, which arrived from the direction of Wriezen at noon, and dispatched to the fuel dump on the northern edge of the field. 19 May. Nine two-axle tank cars arrived with the freight train at noon and later were shunted to the field. 20 May. Four two-axle tank cars were observed east of the hangars, where another fuel dump was probably located as tank cars had been repeatedly observed there. 21 May. Thirteen empty tank cars left with the train for Wriezen. At the same time, four tank cars were observed near the railroad barrier not far from the northern fuel dump. Six to 7 fuel containers previously observed along the highway to Freienwalde were believed to be placed underground as a dredger was observed nearby. The dredger, however, was now observed near the spur track ready for shipment.
5.	It was rumored in Werneuchen that construction work at the airfield was to be completed about 1 June and that no civilian workers were allowed to stay there after that date.
6. 25X1B 25X1B	On 18 May, about 600 air force soldiers were observed in groups of 60 to 80 men on the highway to Freienwalde. Shortly after 4 p.m., they dispersed and searched the surroundings of the field under the supervision of an officer the search was made for four Soviet soldiers three of whom were allegedly found completely drunk.
